FROM H. S. HANNER

White Oaks, N. M., Nov. 18, '15
Mr. Thos. O. Luster,
Editor Outlook,
Carrizozo, N. M.

Dear sir: Noting the recent article you published of my work, this much as such has become known locally and the many inquiries etc., reaching me, too numerous to make replies by letter, I take this means to reciprocate and "thank you" all through the columns of the Outlook for your good wishes, and only wish I could describe my feelings as I sense them.

The aims and methods of my work are now too well known to need lengthy exposition here. In a word, it strives to assist the onlooker to attain in larger measure the educational and cultural possibilities that involves a flavor that pleases and soothes the human heart and mind.

And may I add "moving pictures have come to stay." The whole world is photo play mad! Never in the history of the human race has such a popular form of entertainment swept this globe.

Moving pictures are just as widely patronized in all foreign countries. That is the reason why the demand for photo plays is so enormous. There are more than fifty prominent moving picture producers. It is estimated that at least 3000 new photo plays are produced yearly in the United States alone. This will give you some idea of the demand for well written plots.

The whole world says, "give us something new", producers of moving pictures will pay for good photo plays.

The services of such people are in demand here, now, today.

H. S. Hanner.

WHITE OAKS

Several experts as well as a few mining men have been doing the camp within the last week or ten days.

Up to the present writing, in spite of "old probabilities," the weather forecaster, the old timer, the almanac, or the goose bone, cool nights and warm sunny days have prevailed up here in this niche in the hills for the past two months.

After being victimized to the tune of several hundred dollars H. S. Hanner has thrown up his position as target master for the town hoodlums and removed the plate glass from the front of the old Whitzman building. Other people similarly situated now take warning.

W. H. Sisman, formerly at the head of the school of mines at Socorro, but for many years a mining operator in Mexico, has been offered and has accepted the position of superintendent of the Weightman properties at this place.

Every available house in town is now occupied, as well as those not heretofore considered fit for a white man to live in. What will the winter be to many that are coming in here looking for work and finding it not? There is the strongest probability there will be but little increase in the force now at work in the mines until next spring.

Almost every day now the once familiar face of an old timer of this camp shows up on our streets with that "Don't you remember me" look cropping out all over his face. Even Jim Culp, the irrepressible Jim, who in the long ago tunneled clean through the ridge on the Little Mac, hobbled up the other day as picturesque and serene as the unruffled villain in the moving picture show.

The superintendent of a school of mines in a neighboring city came up the other day and looking into our mines for an hour or two delivered the unskewabbed, unvarnished and super-scientific opinion that there is nothing in the camp, that the ore is not continuous and that even the tungsten only appears in pockets and that the parties who had lately bought in had been bilked, of words to that effect. If this be true then White Oaks must be truly and categorically doomed. Strange that these scientific gentlemen and these other mining experts, who generally go around with leather leggings and bare heads—that the sun may ripen their upper stones no doubt—should have been making these kind of reports for the past thirty years or more about us while the perverse old camp has been going right along until it has produced over two million dollars in gold bullion. And as to the tungsten, these "pockets" have produced well on to $100,000 during the past two months and are still producing day and night while the hills are full of people hunting new pockets. Selah!

BARGAIN IN RANCH PROPERTY

Good stock, grain, and timber ranch of 414 acres, in Douglas county, Oregon 2 1/2 miles to good town, about 100 acres in cultivation about 300 acres in timber and pasture, a yield of 60 bushels of wheat and oats are not uncommon in this locality. Fruits of nearly all kinds yield well. This place is divided into five pastures and each subdivision has a fine spring of water. The place is equipped with 3 large barns and will make a choice Dairy ranch—the barns being large and roomy so that all the dairy stock can be housed as well as all the feed tuff, and there are about 150 acres of this that is covered with virgin cedar and red wood timber and being in 2 1/2 miles of the shipping point will make the timber worth more than is asked for the entire place. In fact the 2 story 7 room house, the barns and other buildings and improvements on the place have cost as much as the place can be bought for. Price $12000.00 Terms, 1/2 cash, balance in annual payments of $500.00 each, with interest of 8 per cent on deferred payments—Stadtman & Byron

The recital given last night at the Baptist Church by Miss Mercedes Thompson, the elocutionist of Chicago, was a high class entertainment and gave general satisfaction to the entire audience. However, a very small crowd was in attendance, and the entertainment from a financial stand point was not much of a success.
